

Customer Journey - Requirement Analysis Phase

The customer journey describes how stakeholders interact with the Union Budget analysis system.

Initially, users become aware of the budget information and seek simplified insights.

During the understanding phase, they explore allocations, reforms, and economic policies.

In the analysis stage, users evaluate trends and compare historical data.

Finally, they assess the impact of budget decisions and provide feedback for improvements.

